

DELIVERING THE VISION

CLOSING THE GAP BETWEEN ACADEMIC RESEARCH AND SOCIETY

At Institute of Industrial Science (IIS) of The University of Tokyo (UTokyo), scientists, engineers, designers, and supporters form an exciting community in which interdisciplinary conversations and collaborations boost research and foster innovation to create and deliver updated visions and values to the modern society. In this event, we will showcase our activity at the border between life science and engineering, highlighting the role of our inspiring community in bringing our research closer to the society.
